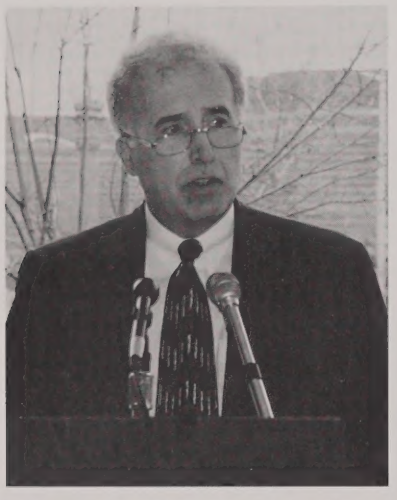
The Headmaster's Office

LHS Tops 3,000 and Undertakes Major Renovations!

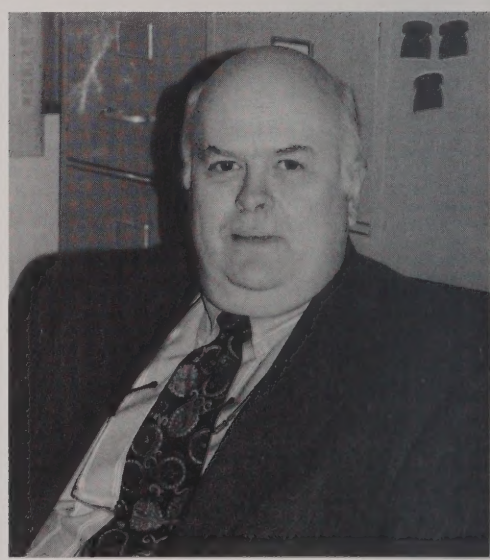
Headmaster William Samaras

Renovations, increased population, accreditation reports and statewide curriculum revision challenged Mr. Samaras in his fifth year as LHS Headmaster. The unique student body never let up on him for a minute!



Lowell High Headmaster William Samaras

1996 marked the groundbreaking year of Lowell High School's $40 million+ expansion and renovation. We were the class that "lived" renovation and new schools city-wide, so we took this latest overhaul in stride. The Class of '97 would see nearly half of the project completed by June graduation.



Master in the Main Office

Second in Command

Dr. David Moorehouse, Master of Lowell High School, spent his second electrifying year in the Main Office command post.

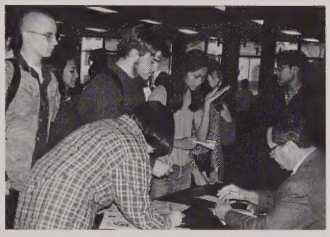
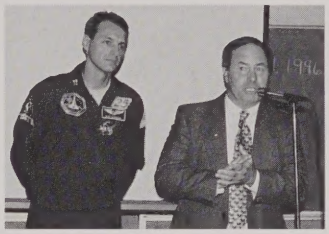
Meeting with eager Student Government members to plan annual activities.



Selling tickets to the Harvest Dance...cash or checks gratefully accepted...all 470 of you!

Running the pep rallies... keeping the crowds fired up, the cheerleaders on cue, and the band, color guard and drill teams coordinated.



Introducing space shuttle astronaut Rick Linnehan to the A-Student Association and student government members.

Paul E. Tsongas

from a eulogy by Headmaster William Samaras

...This year we bid farewell to one of Lowell's most prominent LHS alumnus, former Senator Paul Tsongas. He died at Brigham and Women's Hospital at the age of 55 after a courageous battle with health problems that had plagued him since he was diagnosed with cancer in 1983. In his fight against cancer, he became a symbol of hope for anyone battling the dreaded disease.

Paul graduated from Lowell High School in 1962, then went on to earn his degree from Dartmouth College. He served in the Peace Corps in Ethiopia and later returned to attend Yale University.

Paul Tsongas began his political career in Lowell winning a seat on the City Council in 1969, followed by his election to Middlesex County Commissioner in 1972, and in 1974, election to the U.S. Congress. Finally, in 1978 he was elected to the U.S. Senate. As a Congressman and a Senator, he was well respected for his hard work, his caring, and his understanding of national and international issues.

But, more important for the people of Lowell, was the love he had for his city and his family.

When he was diagnosed with lymphoma in 1983, he left the U.S. Senate to be with his family and to fight this disease. Because of his successful treatments he was able to announce his candidacy for President of the United States, shocking the nation with his victory in New Hampshire. But, due to lack of financial support, he had to leave the race.

It must be noted that during this time in his life he became a catalyst for change in our city. He helped many people who were afflicted with cancer and led the economic revitalization of Lowell with initiatives for change and improvement such as: The National Park, hotels, Wang, The Spinners, the Lowell Hockey team the Lowell arena project, the high school, and thousands of dollars in LHS scholarships.

He cared deeply for his family- his city- his nation... He made a difference in our lives..."

In Memory of ...

Always a familiar sight at the close of school, mounted patrol officer Donald Brill lost his life in a plane crash in Canada. He was a 16-year veteran of the Lowell Police Department who spent much of his career as a detective in the criminal bureau.

Lowell High students will never forget Dot Dufresne of Arthur's Restaurant who died unexpectedly this school year. She was known to thousands of young Boott Mill enthusiasts over the years whom she greeted every morning from behind the counter.

We weren't born grown up!
Baby steps turned all too quickly into the leap into Lowell High School...

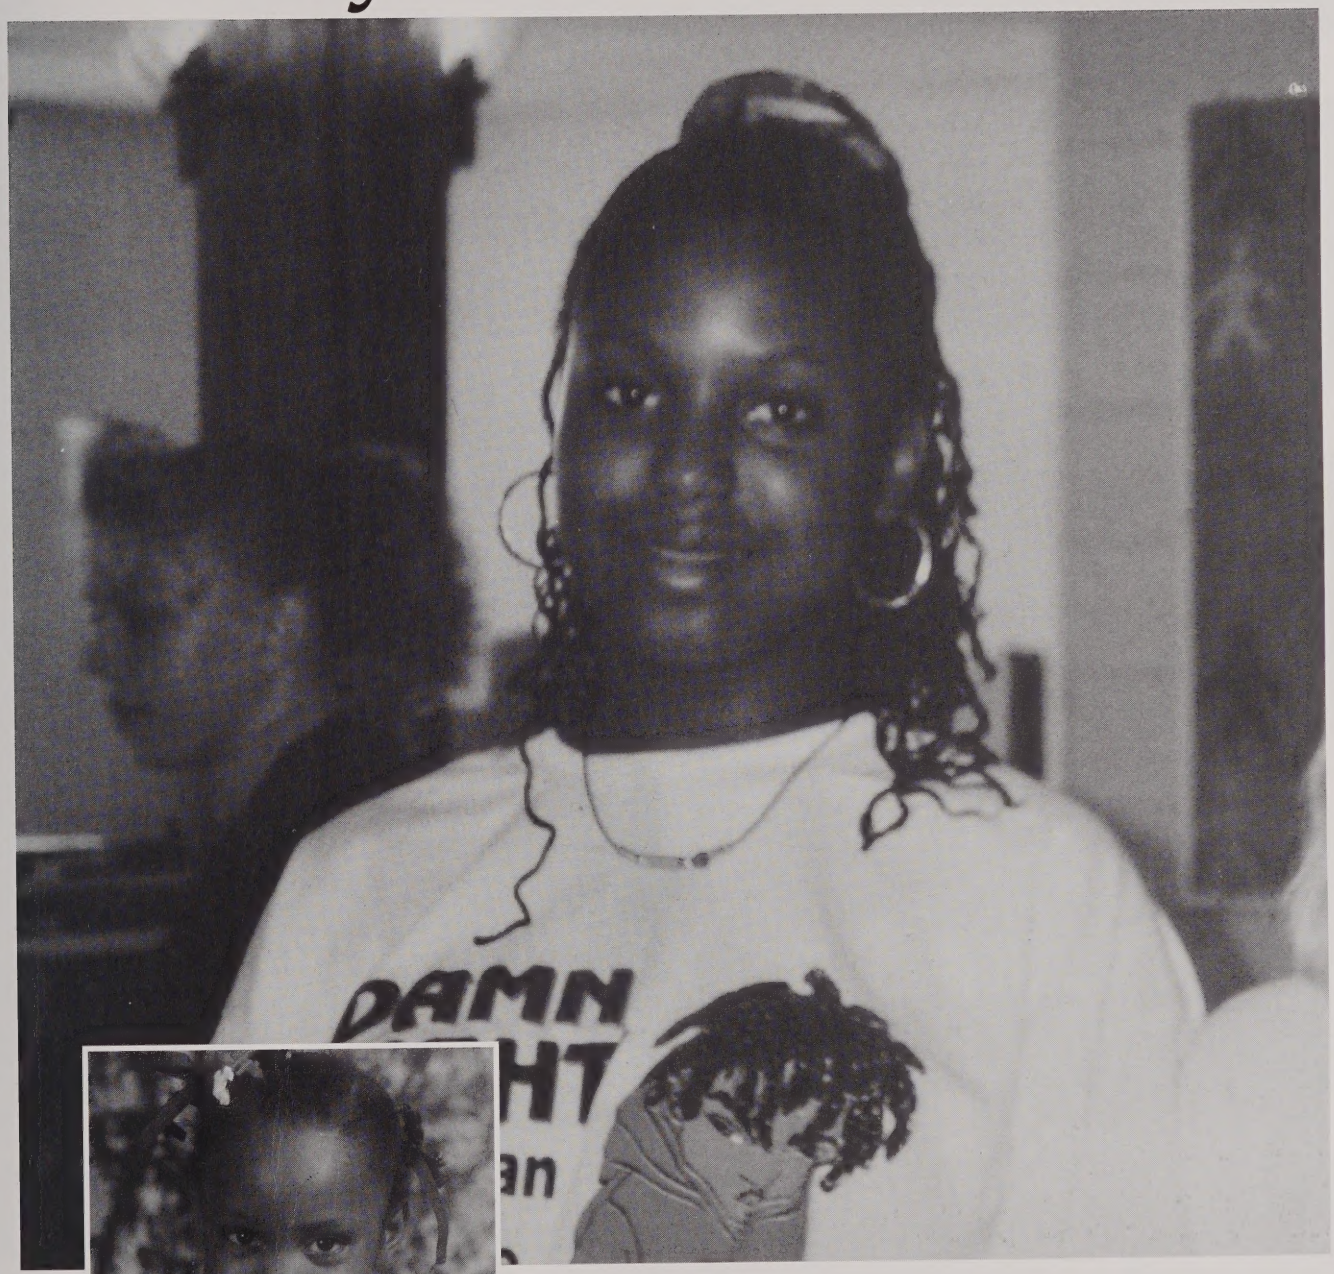
The Way We Were



Archline Brown as a tiny tot at left, braided and buttoned and bowed. Above, meet the same Archline at Freshman Orientation, who according to her shirt, was ready to take on LHS with an "attitude," and according to her smile, a good one!

Freshman Orientation Day...Tours, Cookout, Meetings, Activities Fair

"All I can remember was Matt LeLacheur running around trying to get as many girls' phone numbers as he could!"

"People were asking, 'Where do you live?' --meaning what section of the city. But everybody kept saying...Uh, Lowell?!"

"LHS was scary..You couldn't find anything!"

"We were introduced to the hockey puck hamburgers. Why IS the cheese on the bottom, anyway?!?"

"Everyone signed up for every activity at the fair."

Merrimack Valley College Fair

Lowell High School Hosts the 15th Annual College Search Event

Students from 16 area high schools attended the 15th Annual Merrimack Valley College Fair, sponsored by local banks and businesses. Hundreds of college hopefuls and their parents attended. We managed, even though renovations were going on everywhere! Over 130 colleges and universities sent representatives to the Riddick Fieldhouse to lend assistance to college-bound juniors and seniors.

The applications, the essays, loans and financial aid forms, scholarship applications, the SAT's, the ACT, the TOEFL, college visits, the interviews, the uncertainty, the rejections, the acceptance letters, leaving home, commuting, studying...all ahead. Somebody, somewhere must make it through college!

YOU CAN GET THERE FROM HERE

Picking up these brochures is a big help. Now we can have our parents study them, fill out the forms and go into major shock when they get the bill next fall. Take it from a couple of seasoned journalists like us..."There's an editorial in that!"

My catalogue has a picture of the road to success on it. It could be a little rocky if I'm not careful between now and early winter... The smile is to hide my nerves.

Lowell's always a good bet; affordable, safe and close to friends and family. We could always drive by LHS a couple of times a day or stop in to enjoy a school lunch.

This College Fair is fun of course, but if she squeezes any harder, I'll have to use this pencil on her. The night is short and we have 130 tables to visit!

Fired up for Homecoming

Lowell Smokes Dracut on the Field and Holds a Bonfire for Fun

Homecoming Queen & Her Court

Traditional half-time festivities warmed up the night with the crowning of 1996 Homecoming Queen Megan Crowley. But the week before, Lowell High decided on two new additions to the 1996 Homecoming festivities...the election of Roger Lamarche as Mr. Football and the awesome Homecoming Bonfire.

Preparations began soon after as Student Activities Director Walter Nelson arranged the permits, hired the D.J., stacked the railroad ties, and had the students hand deliver notices to the residents near Cawley Stadium that something 'hot' was going down that night and to expect some very loud music and some four-alarm action behind Alumni Field.

After we put the heat on Dracut, the crowd, estimated at some 1,500 danced'til midnight October 18, 1996.

Horrifying High School!

2nd Annual Hallowen Dance Brought Out Our Bad Sides

The 2nd Annual Halloween Dance was sponsored this year by the National Honor Society. Thursday dances brought in the crowds, and why not? School nights turned out to be better than weekends! There were so many people the doors had to be closed at 8:30 p.m.

The costumes were super and showed a lot of school spirit since we threw them together that afternoon!

"Finally we hired a good D.J.!"
"Can any more people fit in this caf?"
"It's sooo hot in here...!"
"Who was that masked man?

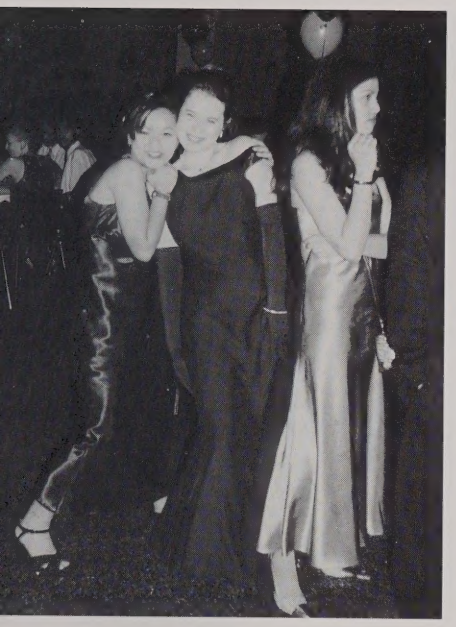
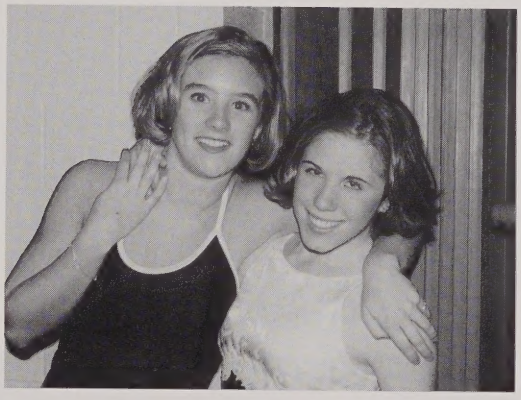
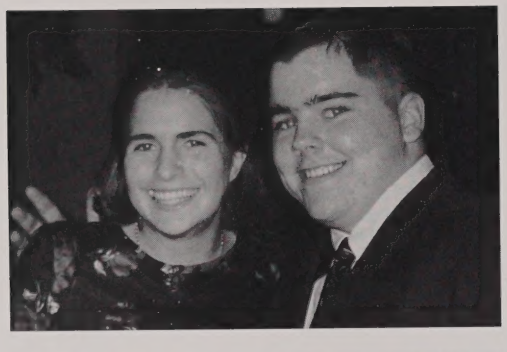
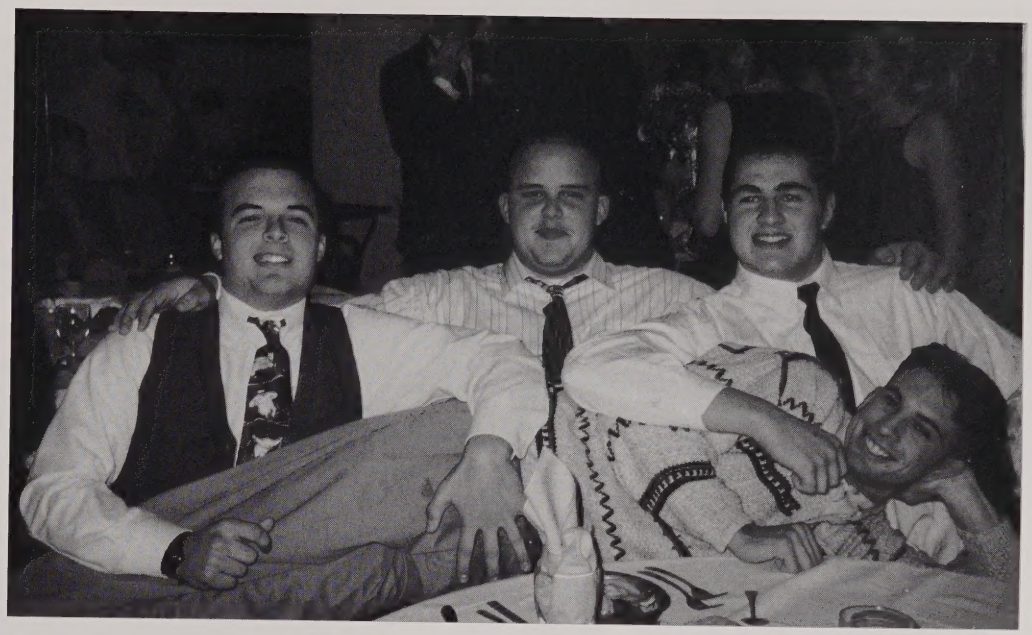
Harvest Dance

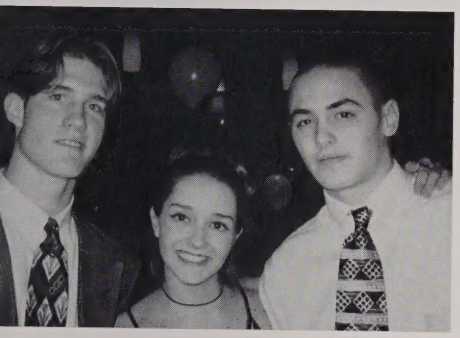
The Annual Harvest Dance 1996
No one can quite remember when the Harvest Dance was first held, but it has always been the most popular event of the year. This year 470 lucky juniors and seniors purchased tickets for a capacity crowd that danced the night away at the Franciscan Center on River Road in Andover. The buffet dinner and the DJ quickly took the place of last minute rushing around, coordinating dates, flowers, and who would go in whose car. The weeks of preparation faded into oblivion as we crowded the dance floor in practice for the Prom 1997!

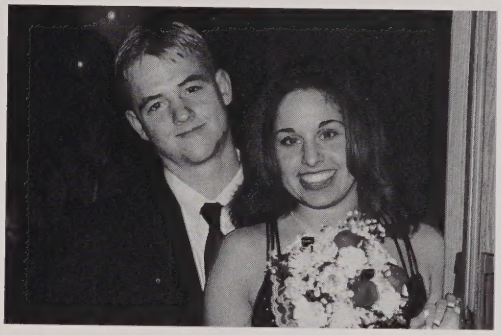






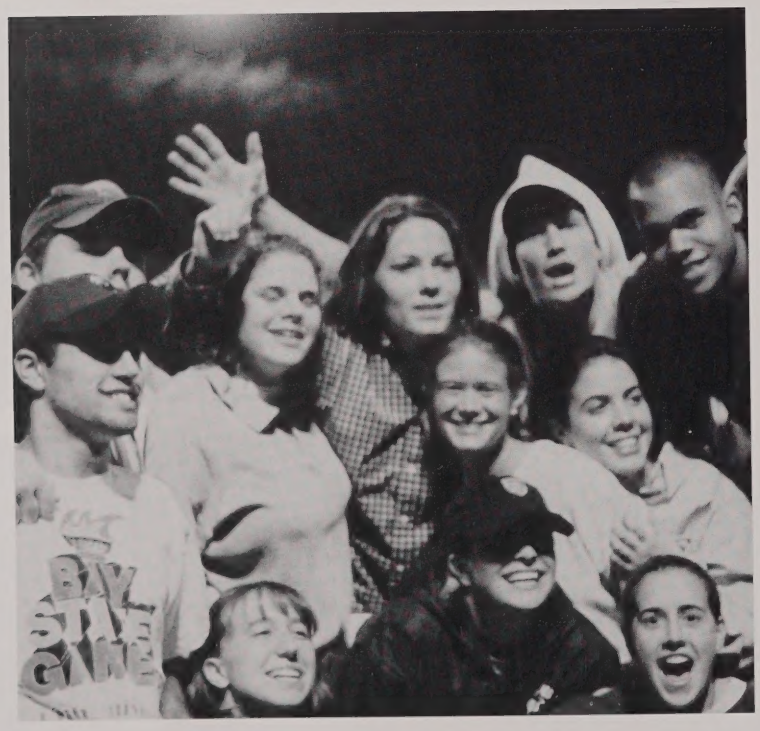


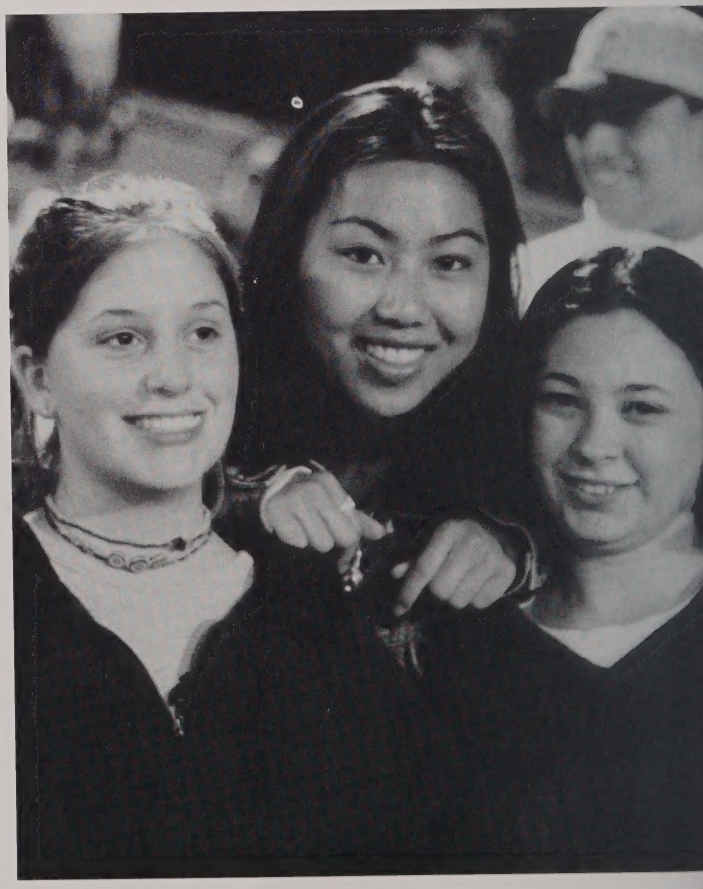




High Spirits in the Stands

Football games brought out the crowds and the pep in all of us!





The season flew by and weather turned quickly cold most nights, but we didn't care. Win or lose the fun was in being with our friends. The newly created Pep Squad tried its best to rev spirits even through the toughest of losses. Signs and streamers, cheerleaders, the band and color guard making a comeback after many years, and some good old fashioned TP'ing added some excitement to the Friday night festivities.

Seniors...Off Our Trolley!

We were asked to gather for the yearbook photo that would become the Spindle endsheets. Over 400 of us amassed on the trolley tracks for few memorable minutes together as the Class of '97. The next time we'd team up as a class would be graduation week... at practice, the cookout and the ceremony... more than likely, for the last time.

What could you say about lunch except that we all looked forward to the break. We'll remember the lines, the smell, the hamburgers with the cheese on the bottom, the snack bar, the mystery meat, the juice machines, the pizza that came in all shapes, sometimes even real pizza, the carpet that could feed a third world nation, the slobs who ate before us, but mostly, being with our friends for a few laughs.

"A teacher touches one's life forever...

We spent more time with our teachers at Lowell High than we did our families ar friends on any given day.The impact may never be fully known. Our days were ofte a tug of war between will and wits; we juggled schedules and changed gears seven more times a day. We zig-zagged from gym to English, lunch to algebra, lockers science, and from the closing bell to afternoon activities. But , during those hectic hour teachers were always there to plan, and prod, and make us produce. Some called mind training....others called it practicing for life. We say thank you to the entire staf

Student Government in Action

Leadership in school improvement with an outlook to the future...

In a year of renovation and change, Student Government found their task a bit more difficult than in the past. Leadership conferences at LHS were put on hold for a year while the buildings underwent major surgery. Communication was tough going with shortened homeroom periods and major room moves throughout the year. Undaunted, the organization maintained its monthly meeting schedule and spearheaded a number of school activities: Spirit Week, Toys for Tots, Hunger and Homeless Week, weekday dances, ID badges, and a meeting with Massachusetts Board of Education Chairman John Silber.

National Honor Society 1996-97

Lowell High's Top Scholars Honored in Candlelight Ceremony

It was another proud year for Lowell High School as 88 juniors and 69 seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society. The LHS Chapter is one of 20,000 nationwide which recognizes students with a grade average of 90 or better at the college level and who demonstrate the qualities of scholarship, character, leadership and service to school and community.

Families and friends of the honored students attended the traditional NHS candlelighting ceremony.

NHS Qualities

Katelyn Cuipa

Scholarship

Scholarship means a commitment to learning...to spend hours in reading and study...to acquire knowledge with diligence and effort...to know that learning ends only with life.

Myra Sinnott

Service

Service is the willingness to benefit those in need without monetary compensation or without recognition... we are committed to volunteering our time and abilities to create a better tomorrow.

Carolyn Whitney

Character

Character distinguishes a person from all others...it is achieved not received...we must be in reality what we wish to appear to others...we must demonstrate reliability, honesty and sincerity.

Christina Kennedy

Leadership

Leadership is taking initiative in class and school activities...the price of leadership is sacrifice...it is the willingness to yield one's personal interests for the interests of others.

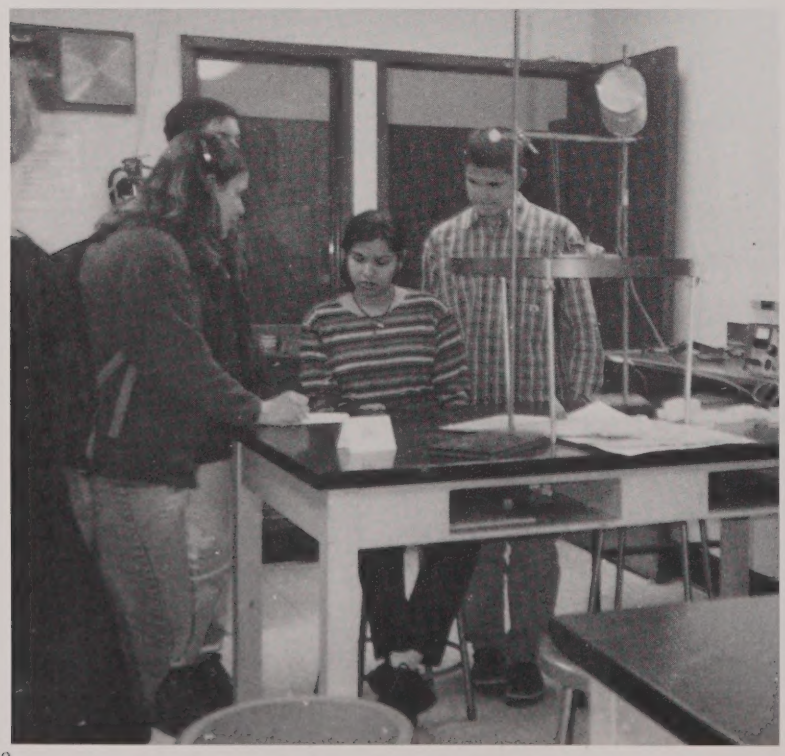
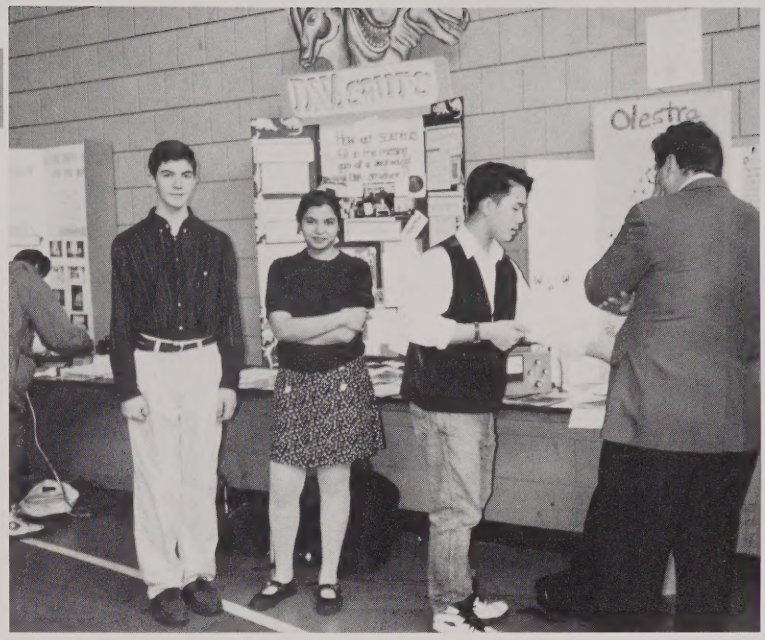
Science Club and League

The LHS Science League had a memorable season, having traveled to Shrewsbury, Burlington, Lexington-Concord, and Acton-Boxborough to compete agaist area high schools in the West Suburban League. The team went armed with Skittles, Tic-Tacs, chess boards had an undefeatable desire to win. Standout events were Freshman Bowl, Straw Tower, Launcher Bottle Rocket and Metric Mastery. Advised by Athena Letsou, the captains for the year were April Gleason and James Blair. Other teammembers included Kristin Bevington, Tom Brogan, Rebecca Corbeil, Bill Lirofonis, Ken Sicard, Siddhi Shah, Rathana Yem, Katie Lau, Apostoli Damianakis, Kelly Lamothe, Pamela Dunn, Sylvester Thong, and Khoa Nguyen. The season ended with the Science Olympiad at Framingham State College. 1996-97 found us at monthly meetings, a field trip to the Museum of Science, the Christmas pizza party, Teacher Appreciation Day, West Suburban Science League meets, the Science Olympiad, the Lowell High School Science Fair, the Regional Science Fair, the Massachusetts State Science Fair, TEAMS Competition at UMass/Lowell, the ACS Exam at Simmons College, City Lab at Boston University Medical School, and the New England Science Bowl (LHS placed 4th out of 26 teams!)





cience Club/League Officers 1996-97: Co-Captain James Blair, Vice-Presi-ent Rashul Patel, President Pinal Patel, Treasurer Nehula Shukla, Co-Captain pril Gleason, Secretary Priti Patel. Athena Letsou served as advisor.

International Language Club

This was another eventful year for the ILC. The fall brought us the annual Ice Cream Sundae event to welcome back old members and introduce the new ones to the club. The first field trip of the season took us to the International Festival at the Expo Center in Boston, most appropriate for ILC participants.

The winter was equally interesting sparked by the Holiday Pot Luck Dinner Party and followed by the crowd-pleasing Valentine's Day Carnation Sale. Each year the club scores record-breaking sale.

But, Winter Carnival in Quebec was always the favorite event of the year. Visiting the old city, enjoying the ice sculptures, shopping, eating, and sightseeing in a European setting was an experience we'd never forget.

The year wrapped up and with a poster contest for Foreign Language Week and a great time making Spanish flowers. The ILC was the way to go for food, fun and making friends.

The Yearbook

The Spindle 1997

When it came to joining the yearbook staff, everyone had good intentions of working on its production after school. Life simply got in the way. Forty "staffmembers" dwindled to a steady six or seven (all girls) who worked voluntarily to produce the 1997 Spindle. What we learned in the process was patience and compromise and how you could please some of the people some of the time. 470 graduates constituted a lot of faces and a lot of legwork. To capture their essence required more hours than the day allowed and more pictures than words. The moments recorded on film throughout the yearbook are those the staff thought the graduating class would like to remember. To accomodate more memories, the size of the 1997 Spindle was increased by 16 pages. The classy "new" cover was chosen unanimously when editors found a copy of the LHS Class of 1974 edition that featured the design. The staff wouldn't accept anything less and so, upon request, it became part of the Class Gift for 1997. Spindle volunteers tried very hard to include as many seniors and activities as possible and no omission was intentional. We hope you enjoy the 1997 Spindle for years to come!

Rainbow Connection

Teaching Acceptance

As the newest club at Lowell High School this year, the Rainbow Connection's primary goals were to create a safe and nonjudgemental place in LHS for all students and to confront and educate people on the issues of homophobia, racism, and other forms of discrimination. The club consisted of several committed and motivated students who believed deeply in its purpose. The group, which was open to all students at LHS regardless of sexual orientation, met twice monthly to discuss current issues and to plan school-based projects, group field trips, and social activities. During the year, the Lowell High group joined the twenty-five percent of (more than 80) Massachusetts schools that had already instituted gay-straight alliances. During one rally we attended, participants were challenged to double the number of GSA groups in Massachusetts high schools by 1998. Only time would tell if the challenge would be met.

The Review

With the graduation of veteran newspaper journalists, this year meant a clean sweep in staffmembers and a change in advisor for Lowell High's student newspaper, The Review. The paper also took on a new look, and for the first time in its history was processed and published totally electonically. The staff took up the challenge and younger members signed on to aid new co-editors Mikhaela Reid and Dan Simmons and able assistant editors Kelly Pantazopoulos and Brandy Grondine.

Students looked forward to a reinstatement of the Newspaper Journalism course which was on hold during this year's LHS renovation project. With hectic schedules and the homework load, it didn't take long to understand the huge commitment that staffers undertook to produce the school newspaper. Students also looked forward to LHS acquisition of computer equipment that could handle the operation, carried out this school year with the McDonough City Magnet School's computer facilities. Ann Bassett served as advisor for 1996-97.

THE Write Stuff

Peer Leaders

Peer Leadership is a program designed to educate, train, and support young people in prevention activities. Students selected for the program are culturally representative of their school enabling participants to cover a wide range of school needs.At the beginning of the year peer leaders received training in leadership skills, communication skills, problem solving techniques, team building, and substance abuse prevention.

This year, LHS PL's received training from the Healthy Life Skills staff on sexual harassment education, which resulted in PL's training 900 freshmen. PL's also assisted local agencies throughout the Merrimack Valley and worked very closely with the Lowell Police Dept.'s D.A.R.E. Programs, volunteering at road races, food festivals, flag football events, and wrestling tournaments. PL's support the efforts of Lowell's Tobacco Control Office, the American Cancer Society, Alternative House and the Lowell Teen Coalition. This year PL's sang carols at nursing homes, delivered Christmas stockings and volunteered for their 3rd consecutive year for the Salvation Army's Holiday Collection. At LHS the Peer Leaders hosted the 1st Annual Winter Coat Drive. Over 150 coats were donated by staff, students, and community members. Mary Page served as advisor once again.

A.F.J.R.O.T.C.

Anyone who has been called to attention and has been inspected knows exactly what ROTC means. Good times and bad, we've always stuck together and we've always stuck up for each other. Through summer leadership school, staff meetings, drill meets, staff changes and even disagreements, we've helped each other and had fun, too!

ROTC has taught us how to deal with people different from ourselves. We've also learned a great deal from our temporary move to St. Anne's Rectory. Most importantly, ROTC is something special in our lives. We form a bond that is unbreakable. We are united by the uniforms we wear and we are proud to wear them. Pride is the basic concept of ROTC; pride in our country, city, school, but most of all, pride in each other and ourselves.

We will miss the comaraderie that is so integral to the corps. But, we'll take the lessons we've learned and apply them to whatever we may do: the military, the work force, or college. We will always remember what we've learned from Col. Taylor and Sgt. Henderson, how to be decent people full of integrity. And that's the most important lesson we've learned in our four years at Lowell High School.

On a Personal Note...

What is DECA? A lot of people ask me that question. When I tell them it is a marketing club, they usually lose interest. The definition of DECA may not sound that exciting, however, it is one of the best things I have been involved with since I entered Lowell High. I was elected Chapter Officer, helped plan a dance, and served on several committees for other events. I have learned skills that I use in everyday life, as well as on the job.

I have learned about where we, as Americans, stand in a global society. I have been able to travel to Washington, D.C. to attend a major leadership conference where I participated in workshops about entrepreneurship, dressing for success, and leadership skills in the business world. I was able to do some educational sightseeing with my friends in our nation's capital.

I also had the opportunity to compete against students from all over the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico, Guam and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Those who qualified would attend the National DECA Career Development Conference in Anaheim, CA.

So, in my opinion, DECA is a great club and an opportunity for a superior academic experience.

Math League

It was a busy year for the LHS Math Club and League. Activities included membership in the Massachusetts Mathematics League where LHS students competed in regional competitions with area high schools. Students were also treated to demonstrations, graphics, videos and new developments in the math field at the Boston University Mathematics Field Day. Competitors from LHS also met at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute for the annual mathematics meet competing against 83 high school teams from a four-state area. Members also established a tutoring program before and after school where Honors Math students worked with both freshmen and upperclassmen to share their expertise and love of math. Kathy Vail and Sharyn Walczewski served as advisors.

The initials stand for Student Conflict Resolution Experts...students serving as mediators in disputes of a varied nature.

Guided by Coordinator Yael Hurwitz and sponsored by the Office of the Attorney General, it was LHS students who managed many meetings of the minds and brought peace to some potentially volatile situations.

Solutions were negotiated; the aim was to prevent violence. It worked.

Drug Awareness Resistance Education provided the information against substance abuse early, since the program began with the middle schools. Officers Mike Kuenzler (left) and Jack Dolan (right) were familiar faces around Lowell High School, their home base, and they made police presence a pleasure. Ski Team

Last year's club...this year's team!

The Ski Team Team was the new kid on the block in 1997... next year they'll find their rightful place among the Winter Sports...

It was a great first year for the club turned team in 1997! Thanks to the careful planning by Activities Director Walter Nelson and Coach Tara Taupier the team turned out a season short on wins but long on memories: Bus rides, loading skiis, Thanks Josh! bus driver asleep in the back of the parking lot, fried dough, oranges, snowball fights on the bus, freshmen boys Ahh!, Big Al, head bashers, icy ruts, 5th out of 5, gate keepers, fake snow, "Is Fred on our team or Chelmford's?" pre-season jump roping, Tara and the out of control skiier. Look for us in the Athletic Section of the 1998 Spindle! Observations: Most of us had never raced before...wish we started three years ago...watch for state champs if we keep it up...not much real snow...ice one day...slush the next...conditions were discouraging...standouts Jimmy McGrail and Sean O'Hearn...for the girls, Laurie Nichols and Christina Kennedy who had never raced before either...Tara was great...she helped us learn a lot about being better skiers... everyone on the team just loved the sport!

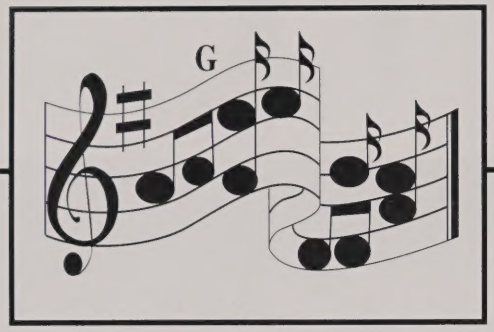
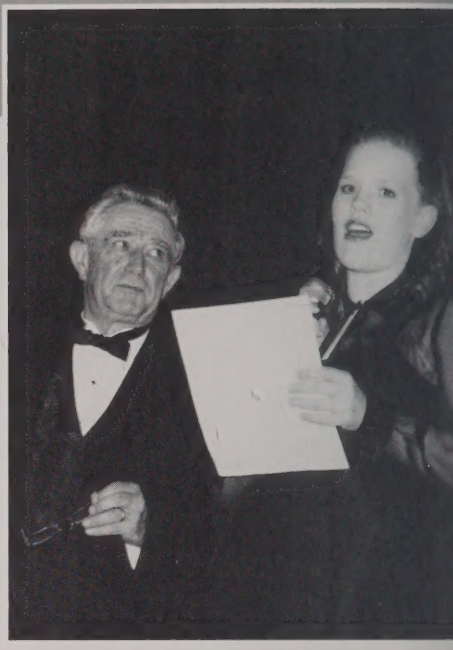
Performing Arts

Doug Townshend bids farewell after 31 years...





At the end of February Lowell High school lost one its finest teachers to retirement. For 31 years, B. Douglas Townshend lovingly referred to as "T" by his students, was LHS's music department director. He retired from his duties teaching Performing Arts, Show Choir class , Concert Chorus, the A Capella Choir and the award winning Spindles, to be sadly missed by his students...Over the years, Mr. Townshend was in chage of putting together 25 Broadway musicals at LHS, assisted by drama director Michael Sokolowski...He said upon leaving that his pupils were always the best part of his job and hoped his successor would enjoy the teenagers in music as much as he had...His belief? "I did not teach music, I taught life through the medium of music." His advice? "Keep music in your heart and you'll have harmony in your life."...from "T Remembers LHS," by Angela Turgeon, The Review.

To say proper farewell, the Spindles and the A Capella Choir staged a mammoth song and dance production on February 27, 1997 entitled "Mr. T's Legacy," a medley of solos and a musical review of the many Broadway hits he and his students staged at LHS throughout his career. Hundreds of music lovers packed Lowell Memorial Auditorium to bid farewell to a Lowell High School legend and to enjoy the students in their all out final performance. It was a night the entire group would never forget.

Boys' Cross Country

Wins: 8 Losses: 1

The Boys' Cross Country Team continued their winning tradition by capturing the MVC Championship and attributed their success to Coach Phil Maia. To quote the team... "We win. We have fun. It will stay that way." In spite of injuries, suspensions and the difficulty of trying to "three-peat," the team enjoyed a fine season and admonished Maia never to change his ways. Standouts included Jeff Cimon, Scott Ouellet and Mark Ryan as MVC All-Conference, Lowell Sun All-Stars. Girls' Cross Country

Wins: 4 Losses: 5

The 1996 Girls' Cross Country Team stuck together when it was needed...we were always encouraging our teammates. We acted like a family through good and bad times, reaching for personal bests and keeping our dedication up for each other. Cross Country was not just physical, but mental as well. Although we were physically ready sometimes, our minds were not set right to run the way were capable of running. We all knew it was a great accomplishment just to make it through a whole season and we did it with the help of Ms. Vail. She was always there for us, and being a woman, she knew what our bodies were going through. She kept us in good spirits and never let us give up. The seniors showed great leadership, the juniors kept the competitive spirit alive, the sophomores kept up our spirits and the freshmen showed dedication to the sport. This year was an awesome group!

Observations and Memories: We had a lot of young players, but we still made it through the season with a pretty good record...Key plays included Nick Carvalho's goal in the last two minutes to beat Dracut, Mike Reilly's four-goal day, Chris Burns scoring the goal winner against Billerica... Most of the players had been playing since they were little kids; it got us in shape and taught us how to be team players...It's the best game in the world...If future players want to be good, our advice is to make all the practices, give 100% at practices and in games, and listen to the coaches and captains... Standouts: Mike Reilly and Nick Carvalho... Chris was the best midfielder in the MVC...also Alex Wendl from Germany... And our coach? Lucas Carvalho was there for us all the time, whether it was for a ride to the game or when we were having problems in school. If we needed anything, we'd call him at home. He showed us what it took to win by setting a good example and staying on even after all he went through. He loved the game.

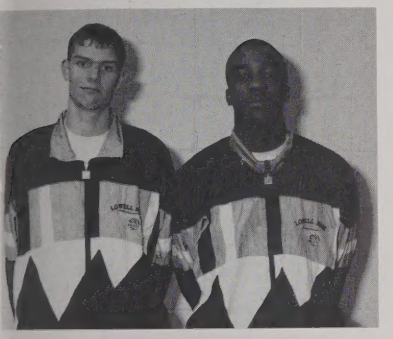
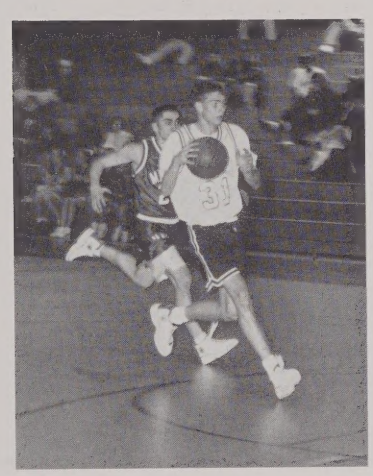
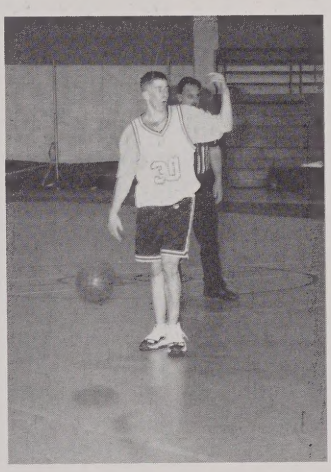
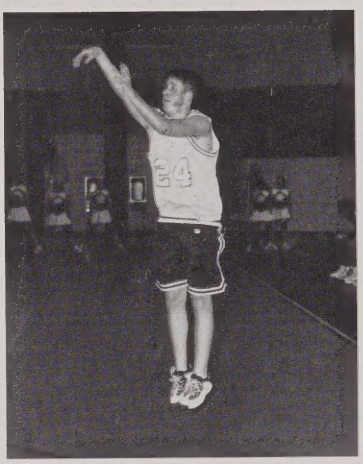
Observations and Memories: Stokinger's card games, "Coach, I love John Wayne...Who's John Wayne?" Big Foot from Andover, Owen Murphy from Haverhill, "Did I block you?" "I'm lighting you up, kid." Coach Mac's squatting dog defense, "Do'em in lovely." "Get on the line..Do I need to wake you guys up?" Burnsie's "Shut up." "I gotta go to the projects." The KFC Brunch, pizza and films, "Who are you?" "What are they doing?" "This is booty." "Buttlicious," Degree and Zorba's dispute, Coach Mac's speech after the away Haverhill game on the bus... This team had a great group of guys who will succeed in life some way...We kept going because of our love for the game to prove that we could take the heat when people put us down...Basketball gives you a sense of how life is going to be--competitive, making the right decisions, and seeing how you'll do under pressure...The coaching staff was great. They molded us into good players and great people...Coach Gallagher will be missed... Standout memories: Beating Brockton by 10 points...Jeremy Richardson was always there when we needed a big play or clutch 3...Our come from behind victory over North Middlesex...Coach Gallagher for hanging in there and taking the blame when it was our fault we lost games...Jeremy's big 3 against Dracut, Phil's sharp-shooting against No. Middlesex, Degree hitting the boards, Burns' smart decision & excellent passing, TJ's leadership.

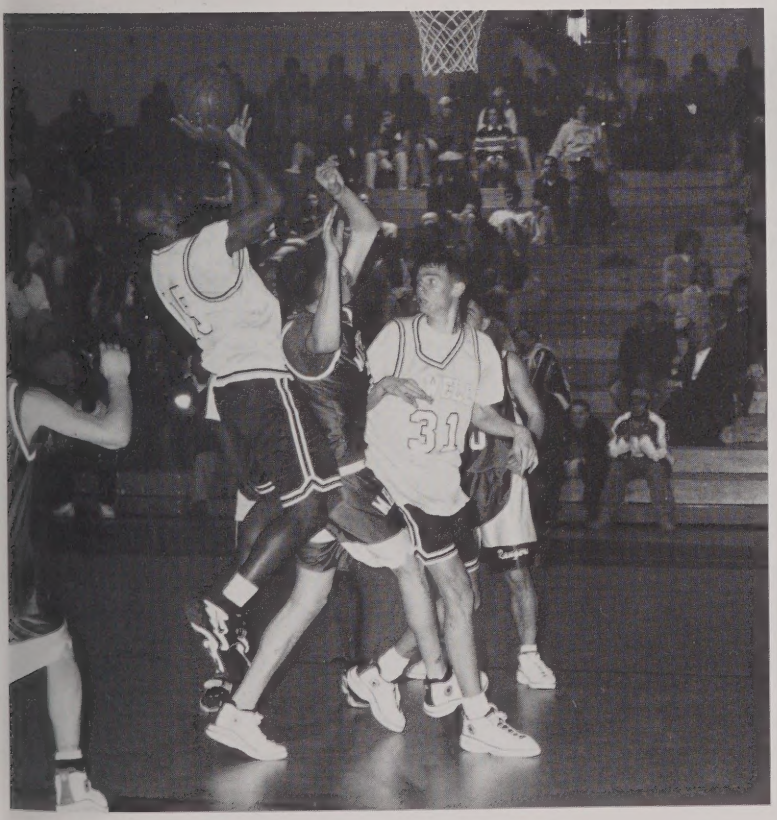


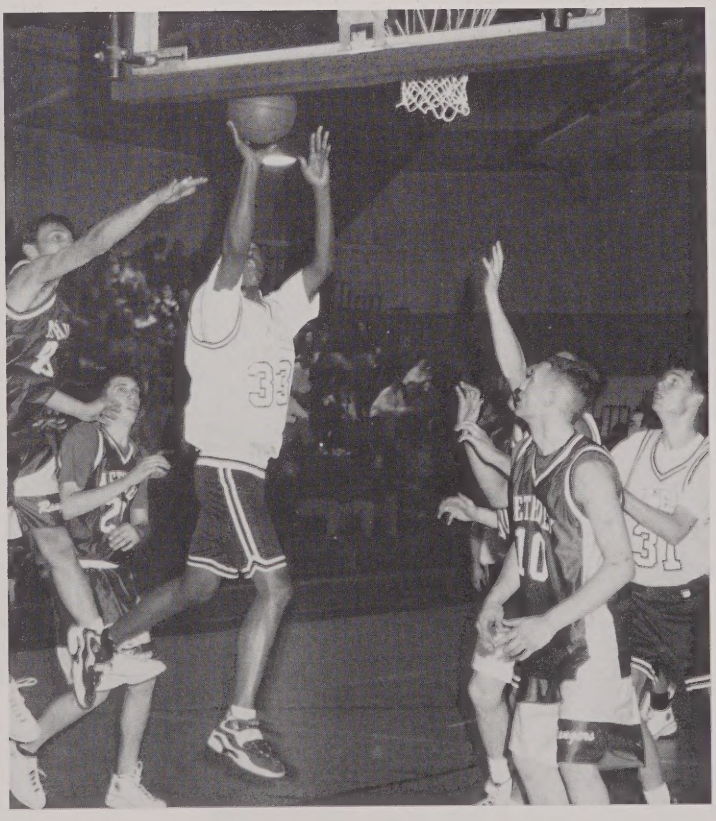
Basketball Team Captains 1997: Chris Burns and Chris Degree











Basketball

Wins: 13 Losses: 7

Memories: Finally having a winning season, qualifying for the State Tournament, Espresso's Pizza, beating Billerica, Erika's stupid foul, "Where's Judy?", "Just play basketball," the lack of basketball knowledge, Boyle's tooth, Boyle's barrel attack, throwing the clipboard, the only team to get injured, losing to Dracut on Senior Night, "I'm playing well in practice.." outdoor practice during a hurricane, giving up on the seniors, "Don't miss long..." half-time speeches, power bars, all Meghan Crowwley's sneakers, "I'll take credit for that.." Erika and Meghan's great tournament poster, 15 minute stretching, floor burns, "What is this, a 3-point contest?" James Blair's spirit, box of chocolates, our warm-up tape, Boyle's mood swings, Coach Crowley's bad back, Coach Crowley's left pinkie finger, psycho coaches, Captain Liz!, "This is insane.." Kathleen's deaf period, being 20th in the state, "Are you serious?" "Get on the floor."

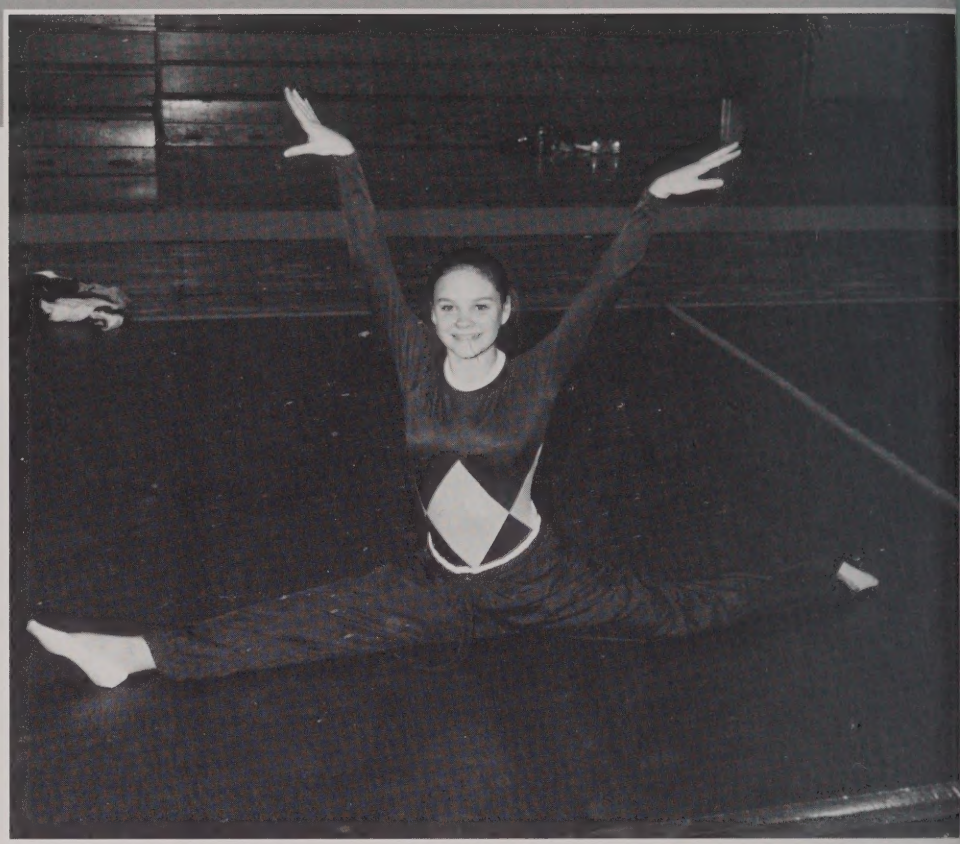
Gymnastics

8th Place Out of 10



Memories and Observations: New coaches and new teammates, better attitudes and a better chance of winning made this year a lot of fun...other teams finally looked at us with some respect...everyone improved through a great deal of hard work...the coaches were great, Mr. Walker and Mary Kay always encouraged us...Kate K. was a talented gymnast, adding lots of points to the score and keeping up a terrific attitude...We'll remember Sarah hanging on to the beam, the fight between Colleen and Tracy, the bus rides to practice, Subway, JG, BB, ML, PM, and DC putting up the bars, no balloons at MVC's, flag pole, the bus driver, pizza at Walker's, Kate and Mike, Sarah's awful taste in music, Power Ranger outfits, elf shoes, LTL, Christian, Beth winking at the judges, and all the advice we gave each other.

LHS Boys' Indoor Track continued its strong tradition with another outstanding season finishing with a 7-1 record. Seniors led the way with a four-year record of 26-4-2. The goal right from the start was to win the MVC title. For the past three years it was LHS vs. Central for the League Championship and this year was the same. The team took 2nd place in the Class A state relays beating Haverhill in league- "Dawn-it's only a duel meet," for the 8th year in a row. This team worked as a unit all season both in the league meets and during State New England competition, performing at the highest level in high jump, hurdles, sprints and distance.We'll never forget the Class A state relays...champs in the High Jump: Driscoll, Crowley, Parks...Champs in the 4x50: LeLacheur, Sok, Parks, Lakmany...Distance Medley Champs: Cimon, Molloy, Ouellet, Swett...New England Champs High Jump: Crowley, Driscoll, Parks...New England Champs Hurdles 4x50: Kouloheras, Molloy, Driscoll, Casey. Changes during for the season saw the addition of Coach DeProfio and a large turnout of 9th graders...also, great performances during the New England relays. To our successors... "Continue to work hard and remember that everyone should be able to run a good 1/4 mile!" To Coaches Nelson, Maia and DeProfio... "Thanks for the opportunities and all the good times. Beat Central next year!"

The 1997 Boys' Indoor Track Team: (Back to Front L-R) Greg Marion, Richard Scott, Kiron Ferris, Lenny Lindsay, Nelson Canales, Frank Morris, Raunny Rosario, Alex Rodriguez, David Hoang, Sam Sok, Kal Demenwu, Kevin Moynihan, Derek Boucher, Coach Jim DeProfio, Craig Lamy, Mike Quezada, Coach Walter Nelson, Savun Chea, Bora Kul, Josh Woods, Chris Bowen, Steve LeBourdas, Nick Zgonis, Dan Driscoll, Andeth Mann, Eddie Kane, Matt Theodoras, Bryan DeAngelis,Fred Smith, Steve Bostwick, Mark Ryan; (2nd Row) Sean Griffith, Sem Sok, Jefferson Tucker, Thomas Tetreault, Andrew Gilmore, Bryan Brunelle, Pat Swett, Jeff Silveria, Nathan Jacquard; (1st Row) Peter Molloy, James Parks,David Casey, Joe Morasse, Pat Smulligan, Scott Ouellet, Nick Kouloheras, A Lakmany, Matt LeLacheur, Jeff Driscoll, Coach Phil Maia.

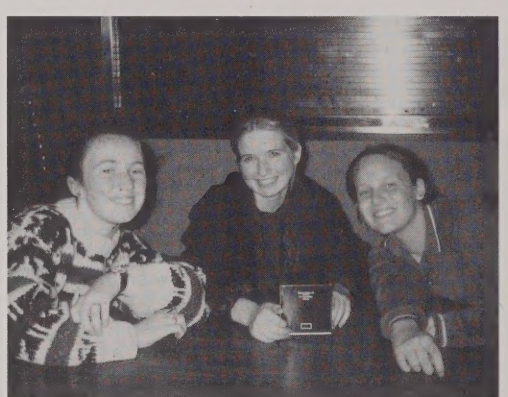
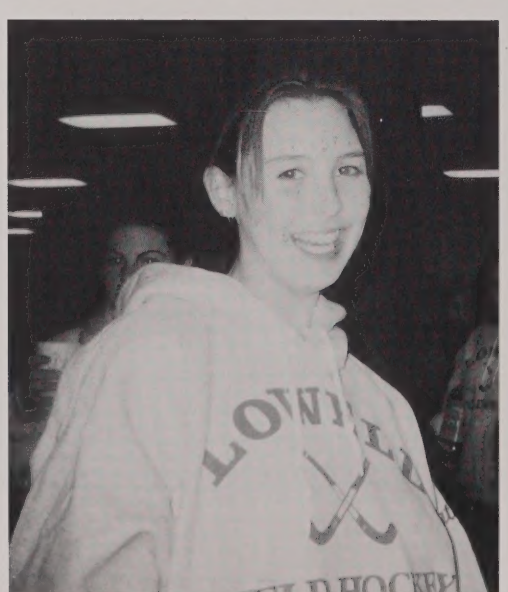
This year Lowell High School assembled its first field hockey team, essentially in scrimmage games. It was a fledgling year but in 1997-98 the team would be made official. Coach Barbara Smith fielded some 46 players with hopes toward building a solid team of the future. Players included: Juniors: Nicole Balelanger, Elise Berkowitz, Diana Bradley, Ellen Buczynski, Charlotte Bun, Rachel Cushing, Christine DeSharnais, Allison Dorsey, Catherine Dubois, Erin Hickey, Jamie Hiscock, Savoun Im, Beth Koumantzelis, Maura Masterson, Jennifer Moisan, Emily Norton, Theresa O'Flaherty, Elisa Ofria, Tejal Patel, Erin Sadlier, Dawn Sedleski, Meghan Tingley, Cassie Vierira; Sophomores: Sarah Balboni, Katie Blaschke, Angela Bradley, Rachel Briere, Casey Burgett, Melissa Deignan, Mary Downing, Aimee Gaudette, Erica Haas, Kelly Lamothe, Patty Paulauski, Katie Quinn, Stacey Regan, Shalu Shalt, Jessica Shepard, Sarah Shugrue, Jessica Stepney, Sarah Toop, April Turcogeorge, Susan Wedge; Freshmen: Kristen Burill, Julie Fairweather, Jessica Laceto.

FIELD HOCKEY





As large as many small towns, LHS needed help from many sectors. Out in the open and behind the scenes people were hard at work making the place run like a well-oiled machine (for real?!).

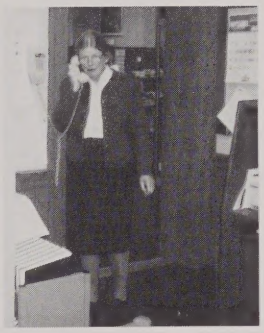
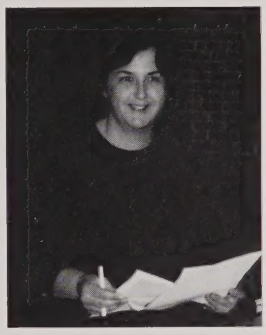
A New Beginning for LHS Research

Library Media Center





It was like a deream come true for librarians Millouise Barrett and Kathy McDonnell to move from their antiquated quarters in the Coburn Building to a state of the art library media center overlooking City Hall, part of the $40 million LHS renovation and restoration. Students and staff marveled at the spacious new facility which would eventually house a TV production studio and computer labs. Everyone looked forward to new opportunities for information access.

The Courtyard Restaurant

Because of the renovations in the Sullivan Building, The Courtyard Restaurant got a late start this year. Before you knew it though, the operation was in full swing training the future chefs of America and dishing out gourmet delights. In addition to daily lunch fare, holiday pies and platters and special dinners for two were heading out the door...a tribute to the students who planned careers in the food service industry. They knew about the long hours and the hard work, but thought it was worth it!

Educational Outreach Programs

At LHS a range of programs were offered to help students choose or prepare for careers, find part-time jobs, tour college campuses, obtain counseling or health services, give or receive tutorial help, or be guided through the college testing and application processes. Located throughout the high school, they included: New Horizons, Healthy Life Skills, Parenting Program, Project CARE, Educational Talent Search, Saints Memorial Teen Health Clinic, and the Transitional Learning Center.
